The Selectmen, Assessors and Overseers of Poor beg leave to make the above report for the year ending Dec. 31, 1891.

As will be seen by the report, the Town Debt is about $8,800.

You are all aware the town last year voted $5,000 to re-build the Center school-house, also voted to pay $1,000 a year until it was paid, beginning with the year 1892.

We have been obliged to borrow that sum for a term of years which has to be added to our debt column.

Aside from the school-house, our debt is less than it was Jan. 1, 1890.

If our tax-payers desire a low rate of taxation they must use care in voting the appropriations. It is the voters that make the tax rate, not the assessors.

GEORGE H. HIXON,
BENJAMIN GANNETT,
SILAS A. STONE,

Selectmen, Assessors and Overseers of Poor.

SHARON, Jan. 20, 1892.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE SHARON
FRIENDS' SCHOOL FUND.

The amount of the Fund is $2,360.00, and the Trustees hold a note of the Town Treasurer for that amount. The interest for the year ending Dec. 31, 1891, ($141.60), has been received and paid to the Town Treasurer for the support of schools.

D. W. PETTEE,

SHARON, Jan. 20, 1892.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE DORCHESTER
AND SURPLUS REVENUE FUND.

Amount of Fund in our hands, $2,550.00, in a town note at 6 per cent. Received as interest on the above, up to Jan. 1, 1892, $153.00, and paid to the Town Treasurer.

C. D. HIXON,

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH

FOR THE YEAR ENDING DEC. 31, 1891.

For the past year an exceptionally high death rate must be recorded, the number of deaths occurring in the town being 39, making the death rate slightly over 23 in a thousand.

Of these, eleven were under five years of age, fourteen were over sixty, the oldest being ninety years and ten months.

Consumption caused six; typhoid fever one; pneumonia one; accidental death by drowning, one. Of the six cases of consumption, four were imported. Contagious diseases reported, measles one; scarlet fever, one. This last occurred in a family of seven children, but failed to spread.

The high death rate may in part be attributed to the prevailing epidemic of influenza, which has proved especially fatal among consumptives, weakly and aged persons; an unusually large proportion of the latter succumbed during the year.

The fact that the town is a resort for invalids, especially consumptives, and that it also contains many infants, (often in feeble health), sent here from public institutions, is the cause of a considerable increase over our normal death rate. The small fatality from zymotic diseases may be noted.

One case of glanders in a horse was reported. The secretary of the State Cattle Commission was notified, examined the animal and ordered it killed. It is urged that any contagious or infectious diseases occurring among domestic animals, such as glanders in horses, pleuro-pneumonia and tuberculosis among cattle, or any suspected cases of such diseases be at once reported to the Board, in order that a competent person may be sent to make examination.

A special danger to human beings exists in tuberculosis in cows, as the disease may be conveyed through the milk. Attention is called to the notice published in the local papers relative to reporting contagious diseases.

The few cases of nuisances complained of have been examined and abated without formal proceedings.

E. B. SQUIRE, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY,

FOR THE YEAR ENDING DEC. 31, 1891.

The Trustees are pleased to observe the steady increase in the circulation of the library, 8,742 volumes having been loaned, being 389 over the previous year.

A special increase appears in History and Biography. This seems to be due in part, to the use of books from these classes by scholars in the public schools, the special cards issued to teachers being used. Many valuable works might with profit be added to these classes, did the funds permit.

The much needed supplement has been supplied. For greater convenience it has been bound with the old catalogues remaining unsold; a sufficient number of copies to supply those already having the old catalogue were bound separately. The type and general arrangement are identical with the original catalogue.

The books have been carefully examined, and all damaged volumes put in thorough order at the binder's; those beyond repair have been replaced, so far as possible. The library was never in better condition than at present.

Donations of books have been received during the year from the following: Mrs. H. G. Cowell, Miss Elizabeth Morse, T. F. Quinn, and the executors of the will of John G. Vassar.

Signed, for the Trustees,

E. R. HARPER, Secretary.

REPORT

OF THE

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

OF THE

TOWN OF SHARON

FOR THE YEAR ENDING DEC. 31, 1891.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE:

C. FRANK ALLEN, Chairman ,	LORING M. MONK, Secretary ,
H. L. NARAMORE,	SILAS POOLE,
ARTHUR D. COLBURN,	EMMA A. BAKER.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS:

EDWARD P. FITTS.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

It is required by the laws of this Commonwealth, that the school committee of each town shall present an annual report. It is well that an opportunity should be given for public officers or servants to render an account of their stewardship, and your committee takes pleasure in presenting this, its annual report for the year ending December 31, 1891.

The record of each year, if dwelt upon in detail, would show much requiring faithful and earnest work on the part of the committee. It often happens that little occurs to call for special comment. The past year has been somewhat exceptional in certain ways, and among several matters deserving notice, it is believed that the question of the superintendency has been the most important requiring action at the hands of your committee.

SUPERINTENDENCY.

It is provided by the laws of the state that two or more towns may in certain cases unite for the purpose of employing a superintendent. When this has been done in the manner required, the state contributes $1,000 in aid of the schools, $500 for superintendent's salary, and $500 for salaries of teachers in the district.

In addition to this financial aid, the smaller towns are enabled by this provision to receive the benefit of the services of a superintendent of ability and experience, whose time shall be used exclusively in school work. The smallest salary received by a superintendent under this law is $1,250, of which the towns pay $750, and the state $500 as mentioned above. The town of Sharon voted at its annual meeting in March, to take advantage of this provision of the law, and appropriated money for this purpose. Other towns adjoining took similar action. Through the active efforts of your committee, it was found possible to effect a union with Stoughton and Mansfield, and one which has seemed very desirable for us. After some preliminary and informal meetings, the union was definitely accomplished at a meeting held in Sharon, April 7, 1891, at which C. Frank Allen of Sharon was elected chairman, and Miss Harriet E. Perry of Mansfield secretary, of the joint committee. At a later meeting there was a superintendent appointed, after a very careful and thorough canvass and the earnest consideration of the merits of a large number of candidates. Of the candidates not chosen, several were men of ability and experience such as to warmly commend them.

Our choice fell upon Mr. Edward P. Fitts, a gentleman of successful experience both as teacher and superintendent, and who was at that time satisfactorily filling the position of superintendent of schools at Middleboro, in this state. In the light of nearly a year's experience, your committee is unanimous in the opinion that no mistake was made in his election.

In entering into the union between Stoughton, Mansfield and Sharon, it was recognized at the outset that the union was for mutual advantage, and there was no disposition manifested by either party to serve any local or personal purposes to the disadvantage of the others. It is earnestly believed that the same spirit should pervade all unions of a similar sort. Your committee is firmly convinced of the value and advantage to small towns resulting from the system of union superintendence, provided only that a suitable selection of superintendent be made.

SCHOOLS.

No change has been made in the number of schools or the distribution of scholars. In the Primary School, during the past year, there have been registered at one time sixty-one scholars, and there have been present at one time fifty-six scholars. The laws of the state recognize fifty scholars as the maximum properly allowable, and skillful educators fully support this view. The number of scholars at the East School has reached as high as forty-five during the year, a larger number than one person ought properly to teach in an ungraded school.

Upon the completion of the enlarged Center school-house, it will be necessary to add a new school to the seven now existing, making eight schools, specified as follows :— High, Grammar, Intermediate, and Primary schools in the Center school-house ; and the North, East, South, and West, district schools. It will probably be deemed advisable to reduce the number of scholars in the East school, by transferring a certain number to the Center schools which will be about equally convenient.

TEACHERS.

The teachers employed in the schools at the close of the fall term ending Dec. 18th, were as follows :—

HIGH,
MISS GRACIA E. READ.
GRAMMAR,
MISS IRENE E. HATHAWAY.
PRIMARY,
MISS MARY I. KILBORN.
NORTH,
MISS MARY A. LEARY.
EAST,
MISS ANNIE B. PARKER.*
SOUTH,
MISS AIMEE J. HOWARD.
WEST,
MISS LIZZIE R. HANLON.

* Miss Parker resigned to take effect Dec. 11th, 1891, and Miss Leary was transferred from the North to the East school, entering upon her duties Dec. 28th, 1891.

The teachers are all of them earnest, faithful and intelligent, and the committee is glad of this opportunity to heartily express its appreciation of the good work done by them, one and all. Whatever may be the merits of the committee, or of the superintendent, the good results obtained are reached through the direct and immediate work of the individual teachers.

During the year a vacancy in the Grammar school was filled by the appointment of Miss Irene E. Hathaway, a teacher of several years' successful experience in the schools of this state : and a vacancy in the North school by the appointment of Miss Leary, a resident of Sharon, a graduate of the Sharon schools and of the State Normal School at Bridgewater. Miss Leary's work at the North school was very satisfactory, and upon the resignation of Miss Parker at the East school, the committee was unanimous in appointing Miss Leary to the vacancy thus created, an arrangement mutually advantageous.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

At the beginning of the year two school buildings required extensive repairs, the West and the North. The West school-house has been shingled; plastering and painting have put the building at the North school in satisfactory condition. The desks in this school have in times past been badly abused, and should be replaced, at the earliest convenient time during the coming year, by either new or remodeled desks.

The Center school-house now under process of enlargement, has not been available for school purposes since the summer vacation. During this time, the Grammar and Primary schools have been held in the "Institute Building" on Billings street, and the High school in the vestry of the First Congregational Church. Both of these buildings are arranged and fitted up for temporary occupancy only, at the present time, and do not either of them offer the facilities and advantages that it is hoped may be enjoyed in the Center school-house, when completed. The teachers are pursuing their duties at a disadvantage in consequence. The rent paid for these buildings since the summer vacation is an expense not contemplated by the committee in fixing the appropriations for the past year.

The enlarged Center school-house bids fair to be a fine building and attain completion at an early date. The building is not yet in the hands of the school committee, and there would be some impropriety in its making any extended report upon the building at this time. It is entirely proper, however, that the school committee should take this occasion to thank the voters of Sharon for their generous appropriation for this building.

APPROPRIATIONS.

There will be required for the coming year appropriations somewhat larger than for the year past. The increase under the head of salaries, care of buildings, and fuel, will be due, in part to the additional salary for a teacher for the Intermediate school, in part to the fact that the heating and ventilation of the Center school-house will require a much larger outlay both for coal and janitor service, and further to the rent of buildings for the High, Grammar and Primary schools for the first three months of the coming year. In addition, it is proposed that music shall be taught in all the schools at an estimated expense of one hundred dollars per year.

Under the head of text-books and school supplies, the increase is due mainly to the necessity for suitably furnishing the Center school-house, and for replacing the desks at the North school. It is, however, proposed to purchase in addition to the books and supplies annually needed, books, charts, and supplies necessary to introduce music and drawing, at an estimated expenditure of eighty dollars.

The committee recommends that the town appropriate for school purposes amounts as follows :

For salaries, care of buildings, fuel,	$3,700
For the support of superintendent,	200
For text-books and supplies,	750
For repairs and incidentals,	300

The financial report of the receipts and expenditures of the school committee is hereto appended, as is also the report of the superintendent, which is hereby made a part of the report of this committee.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion, your committee takes pleasure in reporting that the schools have continued to show marked improvement. They have never been in better condition, and there is every reason to expect that each year will show that steady gain over the preceding year which is sure to result from the work of competent, faithful, and earnest teachers, directed by a superintendent, able and energetic.

My connection with your schools having begun after the opening of the spring term, and as it took some time to find out the needs of the schools, my report will be confined chiefly to the work of the fall term.

Certain conditions which prevail in Sharon were entirely new to me. As for instance, a course of study occupying eight years instead of nine, as is the custom in Stoughton and Mansfield, and in my former charge; having no schools of a single grade in each room, as it is impossible to have with so few pupils of the same age; and having only one teacher in the High School.

The results of the examination for the High school last summer are not at all assuring that eight years give enough time for pupils to develop sufficiently to master with success regular High school work.

A school year of forty weeks is helpful toward better preparation, but I most heartily approve of the suggestion that has been made, that another year be added to the course before the work of the High school is taken up, with the exception of the study of Latin. This year might properly be designated as the High Grammar, as it partakes partly of high and partly of grammar school work. Some such arrangement seems to be an imperative necessity for the coming year, as there is but one school, the North.

which has pupils fitting for the High school, and the number who will be ready to complete the course there will be very small, probably not more than three or four.

There are a few pupils in the Grammar school who are capable of doing more advanced work than the remainder of the class, and to these the prospect of promotion would be a new incentive to do extra work. The progress of these pupils has been carefully watched during the fall term, and from the examinations given at the close of the term and from the report of the teacher, I am satisfied that such a class could be formed at the beginning of the next fall term.

This arrangement would be of very great assistance in completing the higher work of the Grammar school and in relieving the High school of a very small class. It would give the High school two grades doing all the required work of the school, and one class of beginners in Latin. This is certainly enough for one teacher to do.

The question may arise how this will affect the regular work which has been done in the Grammar school. When the new building is in readiness a new teacher will be needed. This will call for an intermediate school between the Primary and the Grammar. The necessity of such a school is so apparent to you that perhaps little need be said. But it may not be generally known that the Primary school with four grades and over fifty pupils is greatly overcrowded; that the East school with five grades and about forty-five pupils, has more than one teacher ought to be asked to care for; that twenty-one of the pupils who now attend the East school live at the Knife Village, and many of these would find the distance to the Center only slightly different from where they now attend. By taking some from this village and some from the Primary and Grammar schools so as to equalize the labor, there would be a sufficient number to form a good school and relieve the present condition.

TEACHERS.

Changes as usual have occurred in the corps of teachers, but Sharon has to be grateful that so few have taken place, and most of these have been unavoidable. Good teachers are in great demand. The richer towns hold out great inducements. Sickness and change of occupation are sometimes unavoidable. My opinion is that in no case have the schools suffered from the recent changes and in some cases they have greatly improved.

Under Miss Leary's vigorous effort, together with her improved methods gained from her Normal course of training, the North school has made a decided advance. The teachers in the other schools outside the Center have been eminently satisfactory. Their continued labor with the schools has borne rich fruit and their retention is greatly desired. We deeply regret the departure of Miss Parker from the East school. She proved herself an energetic, faithful teacher, one who spared not herself but gave her full strength to her school.

The work at the Center has been so hampered by uncomfortable surroundings that it has not proved as satisfactory to the teachers or to me as it would have been under more favorable circumstances. Many things that we would have done gladly have been obliged to be omitted for want of time and suitable conveniences. We are waiting and hoping for the time to come when these will be provided, and then we shall expect and produce better results.

WORK ACCOMPLISHED.

No radical changes in the work of the schools has been attempted. A course of study was in operation. This has been carried out with such changes as seemed desirable under new arrangements. The work in arithmetic has been revised to fit the new series of books now in use. The work of the first year remains unchanged except that we hope to make some use of the Cogswell's Lessons in Number at the close of the year. This book we propose to finish the third year; the intermediate book is to be used the fourth and fifth years and the large book the sixth, seventh and eighth years. This will leave two terms in the ninth year for more advanced work and a general review of the whole subject from as many sources as it will be possible for the teacher to derive help.

The most important change in the course has been in the study of language. The schools were exceedingly deficient in material for the doing of this line of work. Books inadequate to meet the wants of the schools were lying idle on the shelves. By exchanging these for books which were more desirable and eminently fitted to accomplish what is desired, a new interest has been created and no subject in the schools examined by me has given greater satisfaction or left the impression that at least in one thing Sharon schools have made a move forward. One more step, in my judgment, needs to be taken in our language work, and that is in the seventh and eighth grades. The book now prescribed is dry and uninteresting to the pupils, and further, is not adapted to the drill which they most need. Could this book be exchanged at the beginning of the year in September for something better adapted to carry out the work so well begun, the interest would be continued and the pupils on leaving the Grammar school would have a practical knowledge of the use of English and enough of technical grammar to fit them for life's duties or more advanced work in higher grades of school. In this connection I wish to speak of the spelling, which in many of the schools is exceedingly poor. My opinion is that most pupils can learn to spell if they begin early enough and continue the work through the course. Holding this view we have begun the work very early in the primary grades, having the pupils distinguish the word as a whole and then spell it by sound and by letter, taking care that the meaning of the word is made very plain. We have paid especial attention to the spelling of common words and words of different meaning having the same sound. This work has been taken into the High school, and to a visitor the work must seem very elementary and perhaps to some, old-fashioned; we are ready to meet the criticism with the full assurance that we are doing a good work which ought to have been done very much earlier.

In reading we are all working upon the same basis and using the sentence method. The institute at Hyde Park was especially helpful to the teachers and results of points gained there are manifest in every day's work. Having for several years made the different methods of teaching reading a special study and experiment and having used our present method for two years, I feel prepared to say that there is no method like it for stirring up enthusiasm and producing marvellous progress. Add to this the fact that all the teachers in town are practically working each month upon the same words, and there must be an increased interest on the part of the teachers, while it is undoubtedly a great help to the pupils as they may move from one school to another.

I wish to express my pleasure at the great interest which the teachers and pupils have taken in improving the writing. After special effort, specimens from all the schools below the High, were presented at one of our teachers' meetings, and they reflected great credit upon teachers and pupils alike. To one who has not been accustomed to observe the work of primary pupils the results appear surprising. It is my plan to begin the use of ink a year earlier than has been the custom here, and it is my hope that this may be accomplished in all the schools when we get into the new building.

We have not teachers enough to create a great deal of enthusiasm at our teachers' meetings, but they are exceedingly helpful to me in unifying the work and in calling attention to things most in need of correction and praise, as they are seen in the different schools. The teachers themselves are a great help to each other, as they discuss among themselves topics of interest and compare the work which they are doing. There are many things which we have left undone which it has been my pleasure to see inaugurated in other parts of the district. Music, drawing, and physical training ought to receive more attention. When other towns are doing so much in these directions, a small investment here for these things might prove especially valuable in attracting good families to become residents, and so the best interests of the town built up.

My thanks are gratefully extended to the committee for their continued assurance of support in all matters pertaining to the advancement of the schools and especially with regard to admissions, promotions, and discipline. With the kindly co-operation of the parents in seeing that the children are ready for school at the beginning of the term ; that they attend promptly and regularly ; that they support the teachers in all cases when possible, and when not, lay the matter before the proper officials of the schools, we cannot but make progress in the right direction.

It gives me pleasure to express my appreciation of the manner in which my suggestions have been received by the teachers and the loyal support which they have given me. Also, that the pupils have welcomed my visits and entered so heartily into every kind of work which we have attempted to do.

Respectfully submitted,

EDWARD P. FITTS,
Superintendent.
